

Martin Wood, Treasurer, ESA

Martin is originally from Brighton on the South Coast of England. After studying Economics at university in Exeter in Devon, he trained as a Chartered Accountant in central London before moving to Peterborough and opening an Accountancy Practice.

Martin acts as Treasurer for the ESA and provides financial and business advice throughout the year to support the organisation.

He currently lives in a village near Peterborough and has a son working in the north of England and a daughter at University.

Martin enjoys walking, travel, sport, films, music and anything new!